

Click images to download hi-res versions.

LARRY TAUNTON

- Cultural commentator, columnist, and contributor to The Atlantic
- Frequent television and radio guest with appearances on CNN, CNN International, Fox News, and BBC
- Quoted by Rush Limbaugh, The New York Times, The Chicago Tribune, Time, Vanity Fair, and NPR, among others
- Author of The Grace Effect, a personal account that offers a glimpse of a society without Christian influence
- Founder and executive director of Fixed Point Foundation
- Organized and chaired debates on science, religion, and ethics at Oxford University, The Edinburgh International Festival, Princeton University, and the Melbourne Town Hall in Melbourne, Australia
- Received B.A. from Samford University and M.A. from University of Alabama
- Currently pursuing a DMin from Trinity Seminary
- Divides his time between Fixed Point's offices in Europe and the U.S.

MICHAEL SHERMER

- Founding publisher and Editor-in-Chief of Skeptic magazine
- Columnist for Scientific American and regular contributor to Time.com
- Regularly contributes opinion editorials, book reviews, and essays to the Wall Street Journal, the Los Angeles Times, Science, Nature, and other publications
- Author of The Believing Brain, The Mind of the Market, Why Darwin Matters, The Science of Good and Evil, and most recently, The Moral Arc: How Science and Reason Lead Humanity Toward Truth, Justice, and Freedom
- Appeared on The Colbert Report, 20/20, Dateline, Charlie Rose, and Larry King Live
- A TED Speaker with two talks that were voted in the top 100 of more than 1,000
- A college professor since 1979, at Occidental College, Glendale College, and Claremont Graduate University
- Received B.A. from Pepperdine University, M.A. from California State University, Fullerton, and Ph.D. from Claremont Graduate University

